This summer my little family has done a lot of traveling. At one point we had taken 6 trips in 6 weeks! I re-learned a vital lesson on one of these trips. Always, always, always pack the basics when it comes to supplements. There is quite literally nothing worse than being stuck in a hotel somewhere, violently ill with no tools with which to combat it. On the specific trip in question the product I left behind is one that I would recommend, "Don't leave home without it!" Some supplements can be found fairly easily when traveling at local stores. Basic things like Vit. C, D and even probiotics. While the quality may not be ideal at least they can be had until one can get back home and return to the tried and true favorites with a proven track record. Stand-ins for some of your favorites, may be exceedingly difficult or even impossible to find however.

"I can't believe the difference in the way my skin feels after using Nature's Touch Body Bar! It just feels moisturized and silky. I use it for my face as well and my skin has stayed very clear. Great Product!"

After my Hysterectomy my hormones went through the roof! My Doctor put me on Lexapro and they got worse (it made me violent and have suicidal thoughts) I contacted Stephanie Tallent and asked her what would help me. Vitex w/ Dong Quai was one of the items she suggested! It has worked better than I thought! I love the fact that I can take something natural without any side effects! Thank you Stephanie!

I learned my lesson while on a business trip to Chicago. I ordered a chicken sandwich from the hotel restaurant that cost too much, but had I known what was to follow, I would have paid 5 times that much to go hungry. I found myself prone on the restroom floor of a coffee shop violently vomiting. (Not an experience I would recommend to anybody! Neither the vomiting OR the restroom floor.) My co-workers were forced to get a hotel room a couple of blocks away since I was unable to travel anywhere else and literally half dragged and half carried me to the room. In-between bouts of vomiting I instructed them to call every 24 hour pharmacy in the area to get their hands on Activated Charcoal since I knew that was the only thing that had a chance of binding with and halting such a violent onslaught of food poisoning. Although they called every single one within the area, nobody carried Activated Charcoal. The next morning (after a total of 12 hours or so of vomiting) they called every health food store in the area with the same result. Shockingly, even the health foods stores didn't carry Activated Charcoal. We all learned a vital lesson that trip. Always, always ALWAYS pack Activated Charcoal!

A while back I wrote an article called Miracle Dust. For Beeyoutiful detailing some of the varied uses and benefits of Activated Charcoal. We now offer Activated Charcoal in our Beeyoutiful store along with what I consider to be a crucial companion guide called Charcoal Remedies Book.

I told Steve I wanted to do a promotional for the newsletter readers, and he put together a couple of great ones. The first deal is a package including the must have book, tablets, and capsules. Normally this retails for $38.45, but the price is now $25.95. Charcoal Package Deal And the 28oz family size powder, normally $23.95, is now $15.50. Activated Charcoal - Powder 28 oz.

I bought Ow-Ease due to the mammoth bruises I often get from running into things or trying to keep up with the boys. It seemed to help the bruises heal more quickly but I have come to value it for another reason: sore muscles. It has greatly eased lower back pain that I have in the first trimester of pregnancy. It also seems to relieve tension when applied to my neck and shoulder muscles. It worked so well several times that a headache I had from muscle pain would "Ease" away before I noticed it was gone.

These will be available at this price from now until October 18, 2010.
